Do you have the right tools for a 21st century lawyer?

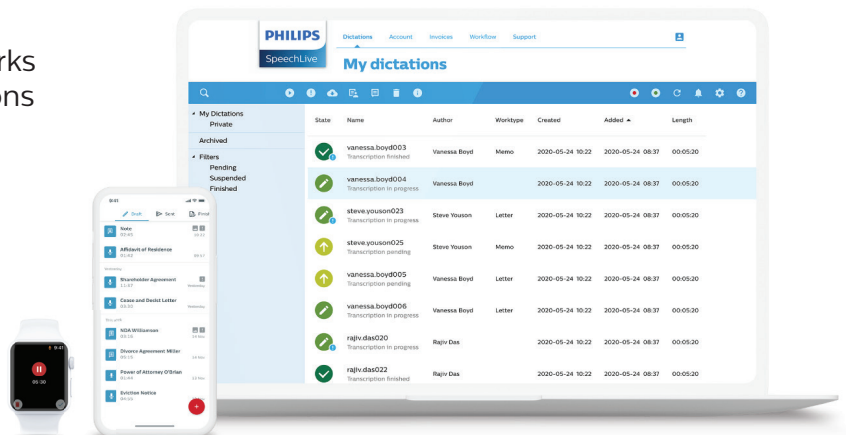

When you are a solo or small firm lawyer, you have to stay relevant, competitive and flexible. From client service to marketing, document creation and management and billing, it's essential that you are able to transform your practice to meet the demands of your clients and today's market.

Philips ensures that the voice technology you use is on the forefront of technology developments, flexible, easy to use and future-proof, so you can simply rely on it.

Philips SpeechLive is the choice for highly mobile smartphone users who look for increased productivity and to easily connect with the office through a secure cloud solution. It also adds the freedom to use speech recognition and a transcription service on demand, whenever you might need it. It works seamlessly with your existing Philips solutions or other recorders or can simply be used stand-alone. It's subscription-based model allows you to just pay for what you need.
